MODEL UNITED NATIONS

MAIDEN EDITION

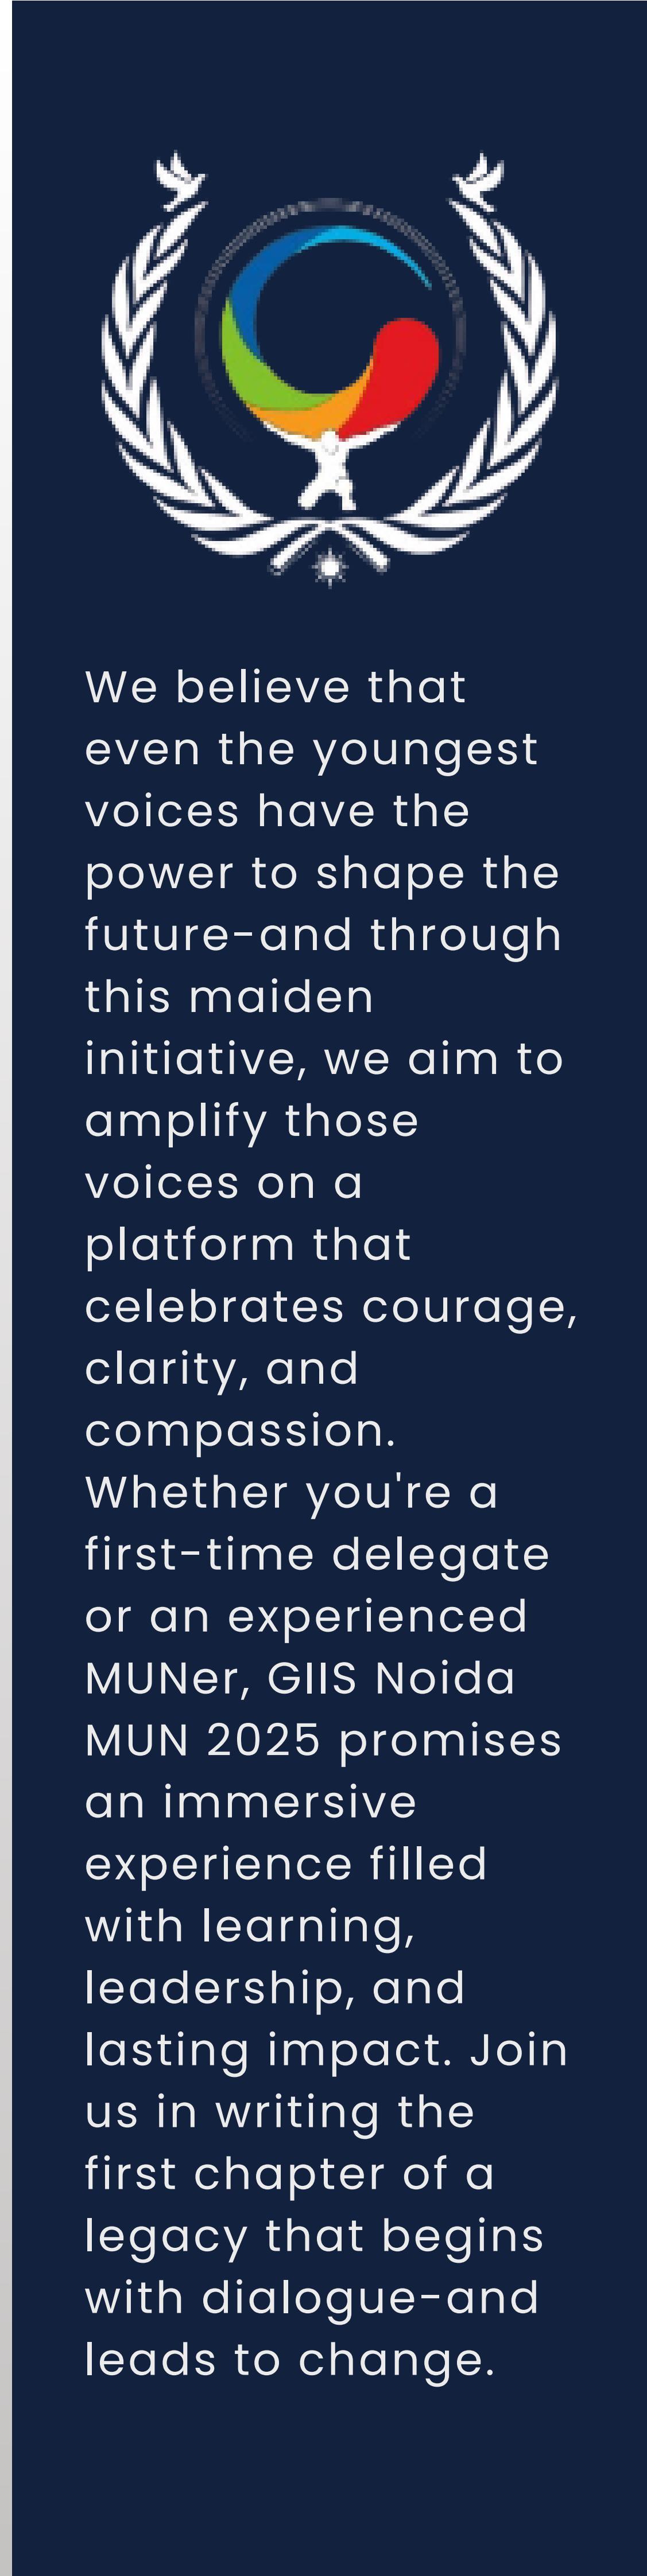

29TH & 30TH August 2025

WHERE LEADERS OF TOMORROW
BEGIN TODAY

ABOUT US

Global Indian International School, Noida, is proud to present the maiden edition of the GIIS Noida Model United Nations (MUN). This is a bold step toward empowering student voices and fostering a new generation of globally conscious leaders. As our first-ever MUN conference, this inaugural edition marks the beginning of a tradition rooted in diplomacy, critical thinking, and meaningful dialogue. GIISN MUN is a platform where passion meets purpose, and young delegates from diverse backgrounds come together to debate real-world issues, simulate the workings of international diplomacy, and craft innovative solutions to global challenges. Guided by the school's ethos of "Nurturing Global Citizens," this conference is built on the pillars of inclusion, intellectual curiosity, and collaborative problem-solving. MUN is not just an academic pursuit; it is a stage for transformation. It teaches the art of negotiation and the value of listening. It nurtures the belief that disagreement need not be division, and that diplomacy is not a luxury, but a necessity in an interconnected world. At GIIS Noida, we see this not just as a conference—but as a classroom without walls.

Message from The Principal

Mr. Ganesh Sharma
Principal, Global Indian International School,
Noida

It gives me immense pride and joy to share that Global Indian International School, Noida will be hosting its very first edition of GIISNMUN 2025, taking place on the 29th and 30th of August.

Model United Nations is more than just a school event. It is a space where ideas come alive, where intellect meets empathy, and where debate becomes meaningful dialogue. It empowers students to think critically, speak confidently, and engage with some of the world's most pressing challenges with maturity and purpose.

At GIIS, we have always believed in shaping individuals who are not only academically strong but also socially responsible and morally grounded. GIISNMUN reflects that very belief. It offers a platform where young minds can step into the shoes of world leaders, explore real-world issues, and grow into voices that can make a difference.

This conference is an invitation to express, explore, and evolve. With thoughtfully curated committees, relevant agendas, and meaningful discussions, I am certain that GIISNMUN 2025 will inspire each participant to think beyond boundaries and truly find their voice.

My heartfelt congratulations to the Secretariat and the organizing team for their dedication, creativity, and vision in bringing this conference to life. And to all the delegates joining us, may you debate with purpose, lead with integrity, and leave with memories that stay with you for a long time to come.

"Where Leaders of Tomorrow Begin Today"

UNGA

The United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) is the central deliberative body of the United Nations, comprising all 193 member states. It serves as a forum for multilateral discussion on international issues covered by the UN Charter, including peace and security, development, human rights, and international law. Each member has one vote, ensuring equal representation regardless of size or power. While its resolutions are non-binding, they carry significant moral and political weight. The UNGA also oversees the UN's budget, appoints nonpermanent Security Council members, and coordinates with other UN organs. It reflects the collective conscience and cooperation of the global community.

Agenda: Addressing the Global Refugee Crisis: Evaluating Humanitarian Access and Migration Policies in Conflict Zones with a Focus on Gaza and Sudan.:

UNHRC

The United Nations Human Rights Council (UNHRC) is an intergovernmental body within the UN system responsible for promoting and protecting human rights around the world. Composed of 47 member states elected by the General Assembly, the Council addresses violations, provides recommendations, and responds to urgent human rights situations. It meets at the UN Office in Geneva and conducts the Universal Periodic Review (UPR), assessing the human rights records of all UN member states. Though its resolutions are not legally binding, they influence global human rights discourse and action. The UNHRC plays a vital role in upholding dignity, justice, and equality worldwide.

Agenda: Combating the Global Backlash Against LGBTQ+ Rights in Authoritarian and Democratic Regimes

(6-8th graders only)

The World Health Organization (WHO) is a specialized agency of the United Nations responsible for international public health. Established in 1948, it works with countries and partners to promote health, keep the world safe, and serve the vulnerable. WHO sets global health standards, coordinates responses to health emergencies, and supports countries in strengthening healthcare systems. Its areas of focus include disease prevention, mental health, maternal care, nutrition, and universal health coverage. Through initiatives like the International Health Regulations and the Global Health Observatory, WHO plays a critical role in monitoring health trends and ensuring access to essential care for all.

Agenda: Strengthening Mental Health Infrastructure for Youth in the Wake of Climate Anxiety and Digital Overload.

The United Nations Security Council (UNSC) is the primary body responsible for maintaining international peace and security. It has 15 members, including five permanent ones-China, France, Russia, the United Kingdom, and the United States-who hold veto power, and ten non-permanent members elected for two-year terms. The UNSC can authorize sanctions, peacekeeping missions, and military action to address threats to global stability. Its decisions are legally binding on all UN member states. While often criticized for its power imbalance and use of vetoes, the UNSC remains a central pillar of the UN system, tasked with preventing conflict and safeguarding global peace.

Agenda: China's Role in the Indo-Pacific: Security Implications of Maritime Tensions and the Taiwan Strait Crisis.

The United Nations Commission on the Status of Women (UNCSW) is a functional commission of the UN Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) dedicated to promoting gender equality and the empowerment of women worldwide. Established in 1946, it plays a key role in shaping global standards and policies on women's rights. The commission meets annually to assess progress, identify challenges, and formulate concrete recommendations on advancing women's social, political, and economic status. It also monitors the implementation of international agreements such as the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action. UNCSW is central to amplifying women's voices in global governance and development.

Agenda: Women in Stateless and Occupied Territories: Rights Without a Nation.

The All India Political Parties Meet (AIPPM) is a simulated platform for Indian domestic politics, typically featured in Model United Nations conferences. It brings together representatives from major political parties to debate pressing national issues, negotiate policies, and present ideological standpoints. Unlike international committees, AIPPM mirrors the diverse and often polarized nature of Indian politics, encouraging participants to engage in coalition-building, parliamentary strategy, and critical thinking. It serves as a stage for dynamic political discourse, allowing delegates to explore realtime challenges such as education reform, internal security, or social justice through the lens of Indian political ideologies and governance structures.

Agenda: Deliberation on India's Response to Recent Cross-Border Terrorism and Ceasefire Violations by Pakistan.

Influencers' Summit

The Influencers' Summit is a contemporary and dynamic committee in Model United Nations that brings together social media influencers, content creators, digital activists, and public figures to debate their role in shaping public opinion and global discourse. As voices with vast reach and impact, influencers discuss topics like misinformation, cancel culture, online responsibility, and digital ethics. This committee examines how digital influence intersects with politics, mental health, activism, and social change. Delegates represent prominent personalities or fictional influencers, crafting policies and narratives that reflect the power and responsibility of the digital age. It is where viral voices meet global responsibility.

Agenda: Regulating Digital Influence: Ethics, Cancel Culture, and Algorithmic Control.

IP

The International Press (IP) is an essential body in Model United Nations, responsible for documenting, analyzing, and reporting the proceedings of various committees. Comprising journalists, photojournalists, and editorial teams, the IP captures the pulse of debate through news articles, interviews, opinion pieces, and visual coverage. It ensures transparency and adds a critical lens to delegate performance, diplomacy, and decision-making. Members of the IP act as the fourth pillar of MUN, questioning narratives, shaping perspectives, and informing the wider conference community. Creative, observant, and sharp, the IP transforms MUN into a space where diplomacy meets the power of media storytelling.

Agenda: Esteemed Journalists, Photographers and Caricaturists awaited.
